Dear SSR Subscribers,

The Breeders' Cup has now been run, and it was once again an exciting and fascinating edition of that great weekend. With the North American mixed sales now underway—and many stud fees due to be announced any day—our subscribers are making key breeding decisions and need the best information available. Accordingly we have assembled this SSR Bulletin covering two key areas:

- Sire Prediction Points (SPP) on sires announced so far for 2026 as well as horses who could retire or even stay in training. Of those announced, it's notable that Coolmore adds two new 9/9 sire prospects, Delacroix in Europe and Sierra Leone in the US. With their City of Troy also going to stud with a 9/9 rating in 2025 Coolmore has now retired the only three 9/9 sire prospects since Too Darn Hot in 2020 (F2021).
- Emily's article on finding the upwardly mobile young sires once they have runners. Whatever their SPP's when they went to stud once they have runners all bets are off. She explains how we predicted major sire success for horses like Into Mischief and Scat Daddy as early as when they had their first 3yo's and details the sires with runners from F2016 forward who the numbers say are highly recommended.

As always don't hesitate to contact us if any questions, comments, or for any clarifications - and thanks again for your interest and support.

SECTION 1: STALLION PROSPECTS TRACKING LIST- PREDICTING SIRE SUCCESS

It is always important to try to be ahead of the curve, and in this business there could be no better way to be ahead of the curve than to be able to predict the next successful super-sire. This became an even more important plank in breeders' strategy when we confirmed the 'age decline' in 11th-crop-plus sires, but predicting sire success is right at the top of everybody's wish list.

We first introduced our Sire Prediction Score, based solely on horses' race records, in our Mid-Year 2014 issue. As detailed below we identified nine criteria which had a positive correlation to sire success, and each sire scores a certain number of points out of nine. Though we detail below three deciles (10% ranges – top 10%, next 10%, next 10%), the shorthand version that we use is the sire's percentage chance of becoming a top 20% sire, which correlates to SSR scores of 70.00+. Very few sires score 9/9 – Coolmore's F2026 City of Troy was the first 9/9 since F2021 Too Darn Hot and the 13th overall, and this year Coolmore has two more 9/9 prospects, Delacroix in Europe and Sierra Leone in Kentucky. These sires, according to our research, had or have an 86% chance of becoming top 20% sires (and in fact 10 of the first 12, or 83% became top 20% sires, and nine of the 12, or 75%, became top 10% sires). Sires who score 7/9 or 8/9 have a 60% chance (they're 3 to 5 shots, give or take); sires who score 6/9 have a 42% chance (7 to 5). After that it drops down significantly.

Two important points: first, the general profile of the successful sire is they were top-level horses, more than once, as 3-year-olds. That's the general profile; it's by no means exhaustive. And that's the second point: this method will predict 60% of the good sires, for example 45 of the top 75 sires. But it won't predict the other 30, and they include, for example, Constitution, Not This Time, and Zarak. So it's also important – vitally important – to be able to recognize and utilize these horses when they do emerge. That's an important strategy component.

Though our original SSP 9-point scale emphasizes 3-year-old form, we know that the market often demands action on stallion prospects before we have the luxury of 3-year-old form. Besides, with 2-year-old form being such an important component of stallion valuation, we wanted to investigate the correlation between 2-year-old form and sire success. The answer is that it is useful, but the correlation is not as high as with our original 9-point model. There are seven points on the juvenile form scale; sires who score 6/7 or 7/7 have a 33% chance (2 to 1) of becoming top 20% sires (Into Mischief, Wootton Bassett, Mehmas, and Blue Point were among these), compared to 42% for 6/9 and 60% for 7/9 or 8/9. Also, though, we found that sires who score 6+ on both scales move up to have a 64% chance. For complete details on the 7-point juvenile form scale, please see the following page.

Subscribers will be familiar by now with the 9-point SPP analysis which we first introduced in the Mid-Year 2014 edition of SSR, and with the Juvenile SPP scale which we introduced in the Year-End 2018 edition. But we like to go back over the method and update the recent retirements and current stallion prospects in each issue.

The original 2014 SSR method utilizes nine criteria for evaluating a horse's race record, and the result is known as the 'Sire Prediction Points' (SPP) score. We use the top ~10% of stallions, as rated by SIRE score, as a target. Based on the record of these Top 10% stallions, benchmarks for racing performance are set. The nine criteria are as follows:

Criteria	Minimum Value	% of top stallions who meet this minimum
First Stud Fee	30k	52.9%
Earnings Per Start	100k	58.8%
Percentage on the Board	75%	79.4%
Racing CPI	30	73.5%
Second Highest Speed Figure	110 Beyer / 125 RPR	65.6%
Number of Grade 1 Wins	2	61.8%
Number of G1/G2 Wins as 3yo	2	47.1%
Earnings / Start @ 3yo	85k	58.8%
Dam CPI	9	58.8%
*Top stallions are defined as the top 10% of the sire population by sire points

Each horse was evaluated to determine how many points they score on a scale of 0-9 to represent the nine criteria above. A sample of 344 established stallions (F1998-2008) was used as a model to determine retrospectively how many of the nine criteria each met. The results of that analysis are listed in the table below. We give odds of how likely a sire will be to rank in the top 10, 20, or 30% of sires. The general profile which emerges from this analysis suggests horses who show top form more than once, as a 3-year-old, have the best chance of sire success. For this scale we find the most pertinent description is that horses who score 7 or 8 points have a 60% chance of becoming a top 20% (roughly a Top 30 sire), and horses who score 6 points have a 42% chance. Below that they have to overcome the odds, though the juvenile analysis tells us horses who score 6/7 or 7/7 have a 33% chance of becoming a top 20% sire. On average only about one horse every 2.5 years scores 9/9 on our original scale, and they have an 86% chance of becoming a top 20% sire.

In the pages which follow, we review the horses retiring to stud in 2026 and how they score on the SPP scale. Keep in mind that for any horses still racing, points are subject to change. A horse can add points through top performances, or even lose points if his form slips. For details on our seven-point Juvenile Form SPP scale please see the next page.

SIRE PREDICTION POINTS- JUVENILE FORM

Inspired by our subscribers to further explore the relationship between 2yo racing form and future success as a stallion, beginning on page 38 of our Year-End 2018 Northern Hemisphere edition we introduced a 7-point scale measuring Juvenile Form. Although this research concluded that our existing 9-point scale, which focuses most on 3yo form, is more accurate in predicting stallion success, assessment of 2yo form is one tool with which we can assess a stallion prospect. We use the top ~10% of stallions, as rated by SIRE score, as a target. Based on the record of these Top 10% stallions, benchmarks for racing performance are set. The seven criteria are as follows:

Criteria	Minimum Value	% of top stallions who meet this minimum
2yo Earnings	200k	86%
2yo Earnings per start	50k	64%
G1 Win @ 2yo	1	22%
G1 Win + G1-Placed @ 2yo	1	33%
G1G2 Wins @ 2yo	1	32%
Highest 2yo Speed Fig	90+	57%
2 nd Highest 2yo Speed Fig	86+	25%
*Top stallions are defined as the top 10% of the sire population by sire points

Each horse was evaluated to determine how many points they score on a scale of 0-7 to represent the seven criteria above. A sample of 722 established stallions (F1998+) was used as a model to determine retrospectively how many of the seven criteria each met. The results of that analysis are listed in the table below. We give percentages of how likely a sire will be to rank in the top 10, 20, or 30% of sires.

SEVEN VARIABLES EXAMINED RELATED TO JUVENILE FORM

CRITERIA MET	TOTAL	Top 10% or better	%	Top 20% or better	%	Top 30% or better	%
6&7	100	12	12%	33	33%	40	40%
4&5	76	7	9%	11	14%	17	22%
2&3	120	8	7%	16	13%	27	23%
0&1	426	39	9%	75	18%	115	27%
TOTAL	722	66	9%	135	19%	199	28%

We find that stallions who score 6+ points on both the standard 9-point Sire Prediction Scale and the 7-point Juvenile Form Prediction Scale have a particularly high chance of success- 16 of 25 stallions (64%) in our sample who achieved 6+ on both marks became top 20% sires, compared to a predicted success rate for that level of 42% for the 9-point scale and 33% for the 7-point Juvenile scale.

SIRE PREDICTION POINTS RATINGS FOR 39 SIRES RETIRING IN NA/EU 2026

THE CLASS OF 2026 (F2027); TWO NEW 9/9's FROM COOLMORE

In the 28 years between A.P. Indy's retirement to Lane's End in 1993 (F1994) and Too Darn Hot's retirement to Darley's Dalham Hall Stud in 2020 (F2021), only 12 horses had retired to stud having scored the maximum 9/9 on our original Sire Prediction Points (SPP) table. As we all know being able to forecast future sire success stories would be a massive 'buy' signal for breeders and stallion masters, but as we also all know the records are littered with highly promising failures as well as apparently unlikely success stories. Forecasting sire success is by definition a highly speculative business.

Having said that, when we devised, first, our original SPP scale and then later the Juvenile Form scale, our assessment was that sires who scored 9/9 on our original scale had an 86% probability of 'top 20%' (say Top 30 sires) sire success. In the event, of the 12 horses who went to stud with 9/9, ten (83%) have become top 20% sires, but perhaps even more significantly, nine of the 12 (75%) went on to become 'Top 10%', or even super-elite sires. For the record #10 was Dixie Union, who was a top 20% sire but not a super-elite sire. Incidentally, to dispel any thoughts of infallibility the two flops were spectacular failures: Henrythenavigator at Coolmore and West Coast at Lane's End.

Coolmore/Ashford and Lane's End were also, however, the two leading farms by number of the 12 sires which they stood: Coolmore (4) also stood Galileo, Giant's Causeway, and Montjeu, and Lane's End (3) also stood A.P. Indy and Dixie Union. Darley/Godolphin stood Bernardini and now stands Too Darn Hot. Juddmonte originally stood Empire Maker, the Aga Khan's Giltown Stud stands Sea The Stars, and Three Chimneys stands Gun Runner.

Since Too Darn Hot there have now been three new sire prospects to score 9/9 in the last two years and, probably not coincidentally, all three are Coolmore sires: F2026 City of Troy this year and F2027 Delacroix and Sierra Leone to retire in 2026. They may have lost Wootton Bassett but they have a formidable arsenal of new top-class prospects, City of Troy, by Coolmore's new number one sire Justify out of G1 Fillies Mile winner Together Forever, by Galileo, emulated Too Darn Hot by scoring 9/9 on our original scale and 7/7 on the 2yo scale, winning four G1's including the Dewhurst as a 2yo, the Epsom Derby at 12f and the Eclipse and Juddmonte International at 10f and 10 1/2f respectively as a 3yo in 2024. Delacroix, by the only living true sire of sires in Dubawi out of the superstar $8 million racemare Tepin, won the 10f Eclipse and Irish Champion S., in the latter showing that devastating turn of foot that finishes off top-class fields in G1 races; and Sierra Leone, a $2.3 million yearling, is by Gun Runner out of G1 winner Heavenly Love, by Malibu Moon, herself a half-sister to the G2-winning Congrats mare Forever Darling, the dam of Forever Young. Sierra Leone was never out of the first three in 14 career starts, winning three G1's, namely the Blue Grass and the Breeders' Cup Classic as a 3yo, and the Whitney this year and placing in six more G1's including the Kentucky Derby, Belmont, and Travers as a 3yo and running second to his cousin Forever Young in this year's Classic, in which two grandsons of Debby Oxley's Deputy Minister mare Darling My Darling ran one-two.

*Sierra Leone (top) and Delacroix (bottom) each score 9/9 on our Sire Prediction Points scale

There are a total of 13 sires already announced as going to stud next year who by our calculations rate as 33%+ probabilities to achieve top 20% sire success, and six of them are Coolmore or Ashford sires. Besides Delacroix, in Europe Coolmore is also retiring Henry Matisse (6/9 + 7/7 = 64%), winner of the 2024 G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf and the 2025 G1 French 2000 Guineas – he's by Wootton Bassett out of the top-class Immortal Verse, by Pivotal; and Camille Pissarro (6/7 as a 2yo = 33%), winner of the G1 Lagardere as a 2yo and the G1 French Derby as a 3yo and also by Wootton Bassett out of a Pivotal mare. Camille Pissarro should just about get a bonus point as he is an absolute dead ringer for his sire. At Ashford in Kentucky, besides Sierra Leone they will also be standing Fierceness (8/9 + 7/7 = 64%), winner of the G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile, Florida Derby, Travers, and Pacific Classic, second in this year's G1 Met Mile, and second and third in the last two editions of the G1 Breeders' Cup Classic. That's not a bad resume; and they are also retiring last year's G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile winner Citizen Bull (7/7 as a 2yo = 33%), by Into Mischief out of a Distorted Humor mare – cross of Practical Joke and Life Is Good – and who gave Nysos a scare last weekend in the G1 Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile. Incidentally we do regard any sire with a 33%+ probability as one to be considered seriously: Into Mischief and Wootton Bassett both qualified as 33% chances, based on their 2yo form.

Darley is definitely retiring Rosallion (7/9 + 7/7 = 64%), from Blue Point's first crop and winner of the G1 Lagardere at two and the G1 Irish 2000 Guineas and St. James's Place S. at 1m as a 3yo and placed in four 1m G1's this year as a 4yo. He didn't win a race this year but that doesn't statistically hamper his prospects at all. He goes to Dalham Hall in Newmarket. Darley is also retiring Shadow of Light (by Lope de Vega, 7/7 as a 2yo = 33%), who won the G1 Middle Park – G1 Dewhurst double last year, to Kildangan Stud in Ireland. The only other horse who qualifies on 3yo+ form is Claiborne's new recruit Mindframe (by Consitution), who was second in the G1 Belmont S. and G1 Haskell last year as a 3yo and won the G1 Churchill Downs S. and G1 Stephen Foster this year; he scores 6/9 on our original scale, qualifying him as a 42% probability. Others who rate 33% chances based on their 2yo form are Spendthrift's Chancer McPatrick and Gainesway's Locked (Gun Runner) in Kentucky and Ireland's Ballyhane Stud's Magnum Force (Mehmas), winner of last year's G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf Sprint; and Unquestionable, from Wootton Bassett's last French crop and who won the 2023 G1 Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf. He goes to Rathbarry in Ireland.

AND ON DECK ... ANOTHER PROSPECTIVE 9/9

On page 9 you will find a separate list of prospects who have not yet been announced as retiring for 2026 or who their connections say they intend to keep in training in 2026. Foremost among them is none other than this year's Japanese-bred and -trained G1 Breeders' Cup Classic winner Forever Young, by Real Steel, who is himself by Deep Impact from the family of Kingmambo and Miesque, and out of the G2-winning Congrats mare Forever Darling, as already noted a half-sister to Sierra Leone's dam. If Forever Young were to go to stud right now he would be yet another 9/9 from what is clearly a terrific 2021 crop. As we go to press no decision has been announced on Godolphin's pro tem US 3yo champion Sovereignty (Into Mischief), who currently scores 7/9 (60%) on our original scale, nor on the runner-up 3yo Journalism (Curlin), who scores 8/9 (also 60%) and who will join the strong cast at Ashford when he does retire. In Europe Juddmote's top 3yo miler by Kingman, Field of Gold (7/9 = 60%) is scheduled to remain in training, but no announcement yet on three current 4yo's: Godolphin's G1 Breeders' Cup Mile winner Notable Speech (Dubawi) and Ombudsman (Night of Thunder) or the Wertheimers' Sosie (Sea The Stars). All currently score (6/9) and rate as 42% chances. Also, Coolmore's Whistlejacket (No Nay Never), who won the G1 Morny and ran second in the G1 Middle Park and G1 Phoenix S. last year, rates a 33% chance on that 2yo form.

SECTION 2: FINDING THE NEXT BIG THING

By Emily Plant

Perhaps more than anything, what people really want to know is which sires are on the rise. Identifying the stars of tomorrow is a nuanced game: sometimes the “obvious” stallion hits the Big Time; sometimes an underdog surprises with unexpected quality.

In 2013 the introduction text of our first-ever SSR Book notes that “many of the true greats began their stud careers at moderate to low stud fee levels. Northern Dancer himself originally stood for C$25,000; both Danzig and Storm Cat started out at $20,000; and Mr. Prospector was originally a <$10k Florida stallion. The salient point is that for many years a high proportion of the top sires – even the very, very top sires – are horses which ‘rose from the ranks’.”

Our goal is to identify the Next Big Thing and recommend stallions who are still in the prime value window before the market at large catches on. Looking back on the past 13 years of publishing the SSR data and recommendations, we can now examine the trends which led us to choose some of our top picks from across the years.

I. SSR CLASSICS: TOP EARLY TOUTS

NAME	YOB	HIS SIRE	FFLS	STANDS	FARM	FEE 2025	FEE 2024	FIRST FEE

UNCLE MO	2008	INDIAN CHARLIE	2013	KY	ASHFORD	125,000	150,000	35,000

In the mid-year 2013 book, we identified F2010 Into Mischief (then standing for $7,500) as a true early standout, based on his early counts of A Runners and G1G2 winners from very small initial crop sizes, stating “breeders need to know is this is a horse you need to start using. They could double his $20,000 ticket for 2014 and he’d still be a good buy. Highly Recommended.”. He’s been a perennial leader on our charts since, and once his crop sizes increased his performance multiplied in short order. Also identified in our first issue was Scat Daddy who then ranked 9th by combined SSR points. At the time he was standing for $17,500 and we commented that he was “on his way to being a seriously good sire. In fact, Scat Daddy is our Top Recommendation as The Sire to sign up for in 2014, and if you can find a yearling by him, that’s highly recommended, too.”.

F2012 Quality Road (then $25,000) was on our radar early thanks to exceeding our benchmarks by siring two G1G2 winners with his first 2yo’s, and although fellow F2012 Munnings (then $10,000) wasn’t quite as quick off the blocks as Quality Road, by the end of 2015 when he had his first 3yo’s Munnings had earned his spot at the top of the charts with seven A Runners and 2 G1G2 winners. Likewise F2013 $25,000 stallion Uncle Mo immediately jumped out in the Year-End 2015 book by siring 5 A Runners and 2 G1G2 winners with his first crop of 2yo’s- a feat only surpassed by Danzig & Frankel.

In addition to identifying the right sires at the right time, we also find that it's crucial to use them within the optimal timeframe. Our research shows that stallions experience an age-related decline in performance, with most stallions demonstrating lesser production with their 11th and later crops. To take advantage of the prime years it's important to identify them early and breed to them in the crucial window.

We identified these stallions early in their careers, and believe they fit the profile of what we look for in a top recommendation. They're all still within their theoretical peak years:

F2016's- covered 11th crop 2025

Kingman- We rated him high on the Sire Prediction Points scale with 7/9, and Kingman met the benchmark for excellence with his first 2yo's when he was standing for £55,000. He had outstanding ratings with his first 3yo's and moved into the top 50 by SSR points in 2019. Kingman then moved up again to 27th in 2020 and 14th in 2021 and has remained in the top 25 since. He started for a healthy price at £55k and has never come down. Big crops and big mare pedigrees to come as he covered 134 mares in 2024 and 163 in 2025- top horse so buy his stock sired while he's still in his prime.

No Nay Never- He rated a perfect 7/7 on our Sire Prediction Points scale based on 2yo form, so we had high hopes for No Nay Never as a stallion. He started at €20k and quickly rose to €100k+ for his 5th crop, so we were not alone in identifying him as an immediate standout. He announced himself as a serious contender by meeting our benchmark for performance with his first 2yo's in 2018, and has continued to consistently add high-class horses to his resume. His later-bred crops promise big books of quality mares so find those horses produced from what is likely to be his peak time window.

Constitution- Started for a $25,000 fee but will command $110k next year for the fourth year in a row, he met our early benchmarks for excellence with his first 2yo's in 2019, and rated #9 overall by SSR points with his first 3yo's. Big Time from the get-go and no longer a bargain, he has a big pipeline of well-bred mares coming and covered 188 mares in 2025.

Karakontie- Small crop sizes and modest mares make him a value play, but he rates in our top 50 by SSR points and stands for just $15,000. His 2024 crop was the his first with a dam CPI of over 2.0, and he covered 67 mares in 2025.

Night of Thunder- His 2022 crop was the first bred on a €75,000 fee, jumping up from £25k the previous year. Night of Thunder had three relatively small 2nd-4th crops, but starting with his 5th crop in 2021 he started to get much bigger and better books of mares. His 2024 and later crops are sired at €100k+ with lots of quality mares on the way as he covered 169 mares in 2025 and will reportedly stand for €200k in 2026. He had an ok start with his first 2yo's in 2019, but Night of Thunder rated in the top 50 by SSR points by Year-End 2020 with his first 3yo's and quickly rose through the ranks, rating 18th overall by Year-End 2021.

F2018's- covered 9th crop 2025

Mehmas- Started for €12,500 but had large crops to start, Mehmas jumped out immediately with his first crop of 2yo's, siring 4 A Runners and 2 G1G2 winners which is double the benchmark, marking him as a clear leader among the sire ranks. His third and fourth crops were much smaller and yielded fewer A Runners and G1G2 winners, but his 3yo's of 2025 are from a much bigger and better book of mares and the pipeline is only growing from there as he covered 224 mares in 2024 and 257 in 2025. Reports indicate he will remain at €70,000 for 2026.

New Bay- His first four crops together totaled only 284 foals, but New Bay has been working his way up the ladder after starting for just €20,000. He now has much bigger and better crops in the pipeline and we expect to hear a lot more from him soon, as his 2024 crop showed a marked increase in quality of mares after his stud fee rose to €75k and he covered 175 mares in 2025. He's handily met each of our annual benchmarks for numbers of A Runners and G1G2 winners and is still in his prime.

Not This Time- Another modest start at $15,000 but he's certainly no longer an underdog as he will stand for $250,000 in 2026. He had 181 foals in his 2023 crop w/ 2.28 CPI and he's currently #1 sire of 2yo's. Pipeline of big books w/ stakes-quality mares coming up and he covered 214 mares in 2025. Rising Tide!!

Nyquist- Highly rated on both of our Sire Prediction Points scales, Nyquist was also an early leader on our rating charts once he started having runners. He has always enjoyed large crops of foals from better-than-average mares and that support continues through 2025 with Nyquist covering a reported 175 mares.

Upstart- Clearly not quite as high-profile as the other five, so let's call this a value play? He had 90 foals in his first crop, but just 63 in his second, 23 third, 53 fourth, and 43 in his fifth crop which basically gives him the right to have dropped completely off the radar- and yet here we are. His 2023 crop is his first with more than 100 foals, and with that he's moved up the leaderboard to #9 by 2025 2yo earnings including five 2yo BT winners (all statistics through November 2). We rate him in our top 50 by SSR points and he'll stand for $25k in 2026 so plenty of upside.

F2019 Gun Runner- He's clearly no secret now, but Gun Runner was scored a perfect 9/9 on our Sire Prediction Points scale and immediately hit the top of our leaderboards with his early progeny. We gave him a massive chance to make a top sire and he has done no wrong since we called him our Top Pick in 2019. He was the first horse in our database to sire four G1G2 winners with his first 2yo's, which was an immediate indicator to us that he was indeed absolutely the real deal. He dwarfed his competition from the get-go and he's breaking records along the way. Time flies and he will be covering his 9th crop in 2026- an expensive buy but he can clearly deliver top results. His very best bred crops are only now hitting the racetrack. What's not to love?

SUMMARY- WHAT WE'VE LEARNED:

Considering the stallions we selected as top recommendations, a pattern emerges: emphasize stallions who show strong early indicators of lasting quality, including those who meet our benchmarks for excellence with high early counts of elite runners (A Runners, G1/G2 winners) and strong SSR ratings even from modest mares. Positive momentum such as rising stud fees, foal counts, or dam CPIs signals a healthy pipeline for investment. Trust early results from top-rated standouts and be prepared to invest as their fees rise, focusing on stallions in their prime years (before their 11th crop). As in SPP ratings, consistent high-class performance is valued more than one-off success.

III. YOUNG SIRES TO BET ON

Now of course the question is to identify the next batch of stallions recommended from among those with first foals 2020 and later. From the time they have runners we watch the early returns, carefully monitoring production of A Runners and G1G2 winners against benchmarks and considering performance relative to book size and mare quality. With unproven stallions who don't yet have foals, we must rely on their Sire Prediction Points (SPP) and early clues about their market popularity in terms of book size and quality. In 2014 we introduced the SPP ratings, a method of identifying which racing colts had the best chance for future success as sires. At that time, there were only a premium handful of stallions to score a perfect 9/9 score, including A.P. Indy, Bernardini, Galileo, Giant's Causeway, Montjeu, and Sea The Stars. Since that point, F2019 Gun Runner and F2021 Too Darn Hot have added their names to the list and have proven themselves top stallions. F2021 West Coast was a miss, but F2026 City of Troy and F2027's Delacroix and Sierra Leone are the latest candidates to continue the tradition.

Sires with First Foals 2020 (4th crop of 2yo's 2025):

Army Mule- had a crop of 103, then dropped to 35 for his 2nd crop. 53 in 3rd crop, 79 in 4th. 5th crop was when he had a jump in fee & larger crops again, could get back on the board with continued momentum as he bred 140 mares in 2025. He has enough A Runners and G1G2 winners to merit rating in the top 50 overall by SSR points at Year-End 2024, and considering the size of his 2nd-4th crops I think it's impressive that we've heard from him at all this year. For example, from just 26 2yo starters of 2025 Army Mule has sired 3 stakes horses including G2W Ground Support, Churchill Downs KY Juvenile stakes winner Pinky Finger, and stakes-placed Party in the Army.

Girvin- has much bigger crops in the pipeline, with his first Kentucky crop of 2yo's running in 2026. His small crops born in 2021-22-23 are running now but foals of 2024 were a big increase in size and mare quality. Covered 127 mares in 2025 and will still be an excellent value at $30,000 in 2026.

Good Magic- although he's already been standing at $125,000 for several years, his crop profile catches the eye as he has only 59 3yo's of 2025. So if you've been wondering why you haven't heard his name as much lately there's a good reason. His foals of 2024 show a big jump in number and dam CPI, so we expect the news to pick up. Might be a sneaky-good time to buy at breeding stock sales as he covered 138 mares in 2024 and 132 in 2025.

Oscar Performance- he's been on a rising tide for the last few years and we expect the trendline to continue up. He started with small-ish crops from better-than-average mares but started getting bigger and bigger crops starting with foals of 2024. He covered 180 mares in 2025 and will be getting another pay raise from $45,000 to $60,000 but even at the new price we think he's a great value.

Sioux Nation- although his first two crops were plenty large at his opening fee of €12,500, he slipped to just 30 named foals in 2022 who are now 3yo's of 2025. He experienced a rapid change of fortunes the next year, with a huge jump in crop size for foals of 2023, 246 mares bred in 2024 and covered 282 mares in 2025. His dam CPI will be on the improve with his 2025 foal crops and later, but he's done well from below-average mares.

Sires with First Foals 2021 (3rd crop of 2yo's 2025):

Maximus Mischief- he went to $25,000 in 2024 after his first crop raced, and stood for $20k this year & $20k next year with healthy books of moderate mares. He now has two G1 winners in Raging Torrent (won Malibu & Met Mile) and 2yo Intrepido (G1 American Pharoah). He covered 169 mares in 2024 and 161 in 2025 so the momentum could be behind him.

Omaha Beach- now has three G1 winners and has established himself as the definitive crop leader. He booked mares with CPI's of 2.0+ in 2024 & 2025 crops, and will continue building that good pipeline as crop sizes never fell. He covered 184 mares in 2025 and his fee will rise from $35k to $75,000 in 2026.

Study of Man- his profile is emulating New Bay and Night of Thunder, and who wouldn't be excited by that? He had small crops of <60 foals for his first four crops, and then a big jump to 123 mares covered in 2024. He was raised from £12,500 to £25,000 in 2025 and I'd expect an increase for 2026. Top horse, top pedigree, good early returns- just go for it.

Too Darn Hot- retired as a top prospect with perfect scores of 7/7 and 9/9 on our Sire Prediction Points scale, we rated Too Darn Hot an 86% chance of becoming a top sire. He enjoyed big crops of stakes-quality mares, and in return delivered immediate results with his first 2yo's. By the end of 2023, Too Darn Hot had sired 4 A Runners and 2 G1G2 winners, well above the benchmark of 2 A's and 1 G1G2 winner. Once his first crop were 3yo's, the momentum only grew, with 9 A Runners and 5 G1G2's against a 5/1 benchmark. He stood for £90,000 in 2025 so is a no stranger to the market, but he certainly merits continued consideration as a top young sire.

Sires with First Foals 2022:

McKinzie- leads his crop with three G1 winners, and has a robust pipeline with 188 mares covered in 2024 and 175 in 2025. He stood for $75,000 in 2025 so there's no secret about his success, but we've loved him since he retired and scored 7/7 and 8/9 on our Sire Prediction Points scales. He easily cleared the benchmark for success with his first 2yo's and we expect him to rate well on his first SSR points scoring at Year-End 2025.

Tiz The Law- stands out in his profile because he has a larger second crop vs his first, which is actually relatively unusual. He currently ranks in the top six by 2yo earnings this year so he's a good bet to be enjoying upward mobility. He bred 158 mares in 2024 and jumped up to 274 mares in 2025 so no doubt the pipeline is plenty robust. We rated him a top chance for sire success before he retired with scores of 7/7 and 7/9 on the Sire Prediction Points scale. Tiz The Law's reputation suffers from not having yet sired a G1 winner, but don't forget he has sired three G2 winners and already exceeded our benchmark for his second year of runners by Year-End 2024 when he only had first 2yo's! He stays at $30,000 for 2026 and I say Buy Buy Buy.

Vekoma- mighty big jump in his stud fee for 2026 with a sharp rise from $15,000 in 2024 to $100,000 which does take your breath away. However, we rated him 6/9 SPP when he retired and is certainly making plenty of noise starting from a $20,000 stud fee. He awaits his first G1 winner but again that is compensated for by the fact that he already has four G2 winners and eight graded stakes winners overall. He's extremely popular in the breeding shed, covering 202 mares in 2024 and 211 in 2025. Like McKinzie and Tiz The Law, we expect that Vekoma will score highly with his first SSR points- all the lights are green.

IV. WHO'S NEXT?

The final question is which unproven stallions are on our radar for the future. These are sires in the early stages of their careers who have made our watchlist.

Sires with First Foals 2023:

Sires with first foals 2023 have been represented by their first 2yo's on the racetrack in 2025. It is of course still early days for these sires and the picture will certainly clarify once they have 3yo's racing in 2026. For now, these horses have made our list thanks to their Sire Prediction Points (SPP) or due to their early data on sales averages, number of mares covered, or performance of their first juvenile runners. In Europe, Palace Pier and St Mark's Basilica rated highest on SPP predictive points and have both have multiple black-type winners from their first 2yo's. Space Blues and Starman did not have high SPP ratings but both are off to a strong start and covered big books of mares in 2025- Starman in particular jumps out thanks to his crop-leading performance with his first runners including five black-type winners. Essential Quality was the standout by SPP among North American F2023 sires and he has already returned three black-type winners and over a million USD in earnings with his first-season 2yo's. Meanwhile Yaupon was not a leader by Sire Prediction Points but he's made his status quite clear this year by leading all sires by 2yo black-type winners (7) and earnings ($2,198,858) as of November 2, 2025. Beau Liam already has two BTW this year and started from a $6k stud fee, while Rock Your World has likewise punched above his weight by siring four black-type horses including G3W Taken By The Wind from a $10k starting fee. Take note of the number of mares covered for these sires in 2025 as they represent the fourth crop of foals by these sires.

Sires with First Foals 2024:

These stallions covered their third crop of mares this year and have just been represented by their first yearlings in 2025, with their first 2yo runners next year. Baaeed is the highest-rated European prospect in this group- scoring 8/9 Sire Prediction Points (SPP) gives him a 60% chance of becoming a top 20% sire. He had the highest yearling average of the euros ($254,644) and also covered the largest book of mares in 2025 (165). Stradivarius rates 6/9 on the SPP scale so he rates a 42% chance of top 20% success as a sire. Blackbeard, Perfect Power, Sealiway, and Thunder Moon each earned 6 or more points on the 2yo SPP scale, indicating a 33% chance of reaching the top 20% of sires based on their performance as juveniles on the racetrack. Meanwhile Minzaal makes the list by virtue of his impressive $110k yearling average from a $15k starting fee.

In North America Corniche, Flightline, Jack Christopher, Jackie's Warrior, and Life is Good each posted 7 or more points on the nine-point 'open' SPP scale (or 6 or more points on both the open and 2yo SPP scales), placing them in the 60%+ probability bracket for top 20% success as sires. Cyberknife, Epicenter, Golden Pal, and Mandaloun each scored 6/9 SPP, indicating roughly a 42% likelihood of joining that top 20% tier.

Sires with First Foals 2025:

Represented by their first foals this year, these sires have not yet produced many sales results as of the date of this writing on November 2, 2025. In Europe Modern Games is the early leader, scoring 7/9 on the ‘open’ SPP and 7/7 on the 2yo SPP predictive scales, giving him a 64% chance of becoming a top 20% sire. He was also a hot commodity at the 2024 breeding stock sales, with his in-foal mares averaging $273,484. Ace Impact and Paddington also rank among the leading prospects, each posting 8/9 SPP for a 60% chance of top 20% sire success; Shaquille and Vadeni score 6/9 SPP (42% chance), while Chaldean, Little Big Bear, and Native Trail each earned perfect 7/7 scores on the 2yo SPP scale, translating to about a 33% likelihood of top-20% performance as sires.

North American sire Forte heads his cohort, scoring 7/9 on the ‘open’ SPP and 7/7 on the 2yo version, which gives him a 64% chance of becoming a top 20% sire. He covered 154 mares in 2025, with is in-foal mares averaging $155,703 at the 2024 breeding stock sales. Arcangelo, Cody’s Wish, and Taiba each score 7/9 on the SPP scale rating them a 60% chance of top 20% sire success, while Elite Power scored 6/9 and gets a 42% chance by that metric. Elite Power topped his crop by average in-foal mare price ($270,238), with Cody’s Wish close behind ($218,250).

Sires with First Foals 2026:

Sires with first foals arriving in 2026 just covered their first book of mares in 2025. For now, all we have to evaluate them is their Sire Prediction Points (SPP) scores, their stud fee, and the number of mares each covered this year. City of Troy leads the European group by SPP rating, with a perfect 9/9 on the 'open' SPP and 7/7 on the 2yo SPP. His exceptional marks give him an 86% chance of being a top 20% sire, and he covered 175 mares this year so was plenty popular with breeders. August Rodin follows with 8/9 on the open SPP and 7/7 on the 2yo SPP, yielding roughly a 64% likelihood of top-20% success, while Charyn gets a 42% chance with his 6/9 SPP score. Big Evs, Henry Longfellow, and Vandeek all posted perfect 7/7 scores on the 2yo SPP, corresponding to a 33% chance of becoming top 20% sires.

In North America Muth tops his class, scoring 6/9 on the 'open' scale and 7/7 on the 2yo scale based on his juvenile race record, while gives him a 64% chance of top 20% sire success. Dornoch rates 6/9 on the SPP scale for a 42% chance of top 20% success as a sire, while Blazing Sevens, Prince of Monaco, and Timberlake each rate 7/7 on the 2yo SPP scale and have a 33% chance by that metric.
